REPORT OF THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

From July to November 1952 we installed 75 meters. We hope that by next April or July we can have a fair idea of the average family use of water per year.

That should enable us to get a fair rate charge for everybody concerned.

We are planning to have all meters in this year so that we can get started on our new rate by January 1954.

Due to the mild winter and the cooperation of some of our consumers we were able to decrease the amount of water used as compared to last year and it has helped us in a lower operating cost for this winter.

Our aim is to work for a decrease in rates in the future.

How soon that future is depends on us as consumers.

If we all help it should not be too far away.

MINOT-SLEEPER LIBRARY

Report of Trustees

The records of Minot-Sleeper Library show increased public interest.

Miss Mary A. Rogers has continued to fill the office of Librarian with her usual efficiency and courtesy. Her report states the circulation of books as follows: Adult fiction, 20,772, non-fiction, 2,573; junior fiction, 2,551, non-fiction, 1,261; total, 27,157. New books added, 188. Received from sales of "History of Bristol," $20.00; from fines, $63.00. Valuable additions to the reference shelf include "Child Craft," seventeen volumes, and "Life in America," six volumes.

Bristol is fortunate that its book fund does not have to include the purchase of magazines. This latter need is met by the Minnie Maria Day-Jackman fund which makes possible a collection of the best and most popular magazines. After the next issue is received, these may be borrowed, the same as books. The current Geographic and Reader's Digest may be taken out at any time. The magazines available are: Atlantic Monthly, American Magazine, American Girl, Better Homes & Gardens, Boys' Life, Coronet, Cosmopolitan, Collier's, Field & Stream, Good Housekeeping, Harpers, Hobbies, Holiday, Horticulture, Jack & Jill, Junior Craft, Ladies' Home Journal, Life, Liberty, National Geographic (2 copies), Nature, New Hampshire Profiles, Pictorial Review, Popular Science, Reader's Digest (2 copies), Redbook, Saturday Evening Post, Time, True Stories, Yankee. The Bristol Enterprise is also on the reading table.

An informal meeting of neighborhood librarians and trustees was held at the library on May 27. There were nineteen visitors. Opening the morning session, Mr. John O. Lovejoy, chairman of Trustees, welcomed the guests and introduced Miss Catherine Pratt, Assistant State Librarian, of Concord, who presided over the meeting. She discussed some of the new books which were on exhibit. At the afternoon session Mr. Ralph D. Riley, Extension Librarian, of Littleton, described the practical value of Government pamphlets and explained methods of filing.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Now that there is a lull in material gains in the form of buildings it might be well for us to take "time out", catch our breath for a second, and review what we believe are the basic aims of education in Supervisory Union No. 4, what has been done, and what might be done. We should preface this by saying that there is wide disagreement in operating methods. Rather than be alarmed about this we should consider it a very wholesome occurrence for when people cease to disagree intelligently democracy disappears. The preservation of democracy and all it signifies is a primary aim of our education. We must watch attempts under the guise of democracy to ferment unreasonable differences of opinion in order that subversive elements may assume command once these differences have so weakened our morale that internal conquest becomes easy. There are many ways of doing this.

We spend most of our efforts in this school union teaching fundamentals in the tool subjects in elementary grades with much emphasis on reading skills. In spite of contrary opinion we go on record as saying that we are doing a good job as a whole, and we have many excellent results. Every year some nationally standardized achievement tests are given, the Metropolitan last year. In only one subject taking the nine towns together did we have an average score below national standards. That was 5th grade spelling with .2 of a year below, largely due to one very poor grade in a small school. Our average in reading was .2 to a full grade above with some individual grades being two to three grades above. To cite more would serve little purpose but to summarize let us say we know where we stand and others guess about it. Furthermore we take conscious steps to improve the weak spots.

Teaching fundamentals and tool subjects is, however, only one aim of education whose real object is to teach the individual to live a better life in the world of today and tomorrow. It is when we get into this problem that we get into serious differences. How should we teach democratic living? Let the pupils run the school? Some might say "Yes, to a large degree." I happen to say "No." This illustrates the point I believe. Hitting at this type of thing from another angle we may raise the question: "How much individual help does the child receive in school?" We all believe this to be important today. Can we do it with a first grade of 40 babies? Should we teach pupils to work and play together? Most people would say yes but might not agree that square dancing is a good method. "Should a child be given aid to like good music and art?" Yes would be given most of the time. How well can this be done without teachers skilled in teaching appreciation of fine things, in part by actual participation? "Should religion be taught in schools?" will start a mental massacre among otherwise intelligent people. Certain it is that much Christian living can be, and is being, taught by teachers everyday without teaching any creed. This could go on forever but let's end this by asking ourselves how well are we doing in teaching each individual child all he can absorb in all things he may need as a good citizen living an enriched life in a world where a boy may be required to swap deer hunting in the hills of New Hampshire for a different quarry in hills on the other side of the world. Is the education of the rural school of 50 years ago and the high school curriculum of that time, "More Latin and less Greek", good enough or is the type of education of previous generations to be held responsible for the problems facing the children of today?

Only two of my nine towns have the services of a music supervisor, none has an art instructor, only one has expert handwriting supervision, none has a kindergarten, none has a physical education instructor, and none has a specialist in remedial reading. There is no thought of complaint in the above statement but rather proof of the fact that we are offering barely the most minimum education possible. I believe the pupils, your children, could profit by some of these which will be found in really modern schools where the cost of education is not borne completely-practically speaking-by the property tax.

Any school administrator must be an idealist to keep really alive but he must be practical too. Education costs money taking the bigger part of the tax assessment in most cases in spite of our low salaries to teachers. A school executive must be practical in the situation he faces. An enriched course of study is apt to mean more money, and so do flush toilets, and school lunch programs. I happen to believe that state aid must be given in quantities sufficient so that the property tax assessment may be lowered while improving educational opportunities for our children. If and when this is done it must be done in such a manner that we can know in advance how much each district will receive. It takes more courage than we have to ask for expensive items knowing the communities as we do. We could make plans programmed over a period of years if we were sure of state aid of sufficient amounts. No one is hurt by the present amounts of aid cut to 48% due to lack of state funds except the children of the state, and I'm particularly interested in those of my nine towns. As long as legislative funds for state aid are voted after school budgets are passed I can not recommend to local boards action to improve our educational system if it involves one penny of state aid. We'll use what we get to reduce the property tax assessment.

Tuition receipts for 1953-54 are estimated at $5,400 elementary and $16,500 high school figuring present enrollments and estimating very closely anticipated numbers. It should be realized that an overestimation in receipts becomes an appropriation cut in an actual operating budget. This gives a total of $21,900 as compared with $3,200 in 1946-47. Tuition charges for next year will be the state average costs and the sending districts will be more nearly paying their fair share of the costs. We hope for increasing numbers of tuition pupils but are limited by the potential available in the surrounding towns.

Occasionally we hear or see charges that we ought to have education of the "good old days." Much could be written and considerable research has been made in this field for those willing to face the facts. There should be several things taken into consideration. One may wonder how good education really was when those so educated have put the present and future generations in the mess we find ourselves today with no great hope for immediate panaceas. Certainly the school population of today is not responsible for national and international problems we now face and the solutions to which the older generation, those educated under the "good old days", have miserably bungled. Secondly, it may be mentioned that the writer is perhaps older than you think. Anyway, he graduated from high school almost 29 years ago and is familiar with education of that era by experience. Four years of Latin, three of French, three of mathematics, four of English, two of science didn't leave much room for anything else. We note that Bristol was offering about the same with less science. This was good training for more of the same in college. I actually enjoyed the tenth semester of Latin but don't think it counteracted the suffering caused by the other nine! In 1920 thirty-two percent of the high school age group were in school; today 82% are in attendance. Even in 1920 most of us intended to study beyond high school. Today the reverse is true with those going to college comprising a very small percentage. To imply that everyone should be made to suffer four years of Latin, three of French, and three of college preparatory mathematics is absurd. Whether we like it or not we must have education for all fitted to present needs and future demands in so far as these can be determined. We must look ahead for this and not backwards even to 1920.

Bristol High School requires the study of a "social studies" each of four years. This is not commonly done. Freshmen take Civics (local, state, and national governments), sophomores study World History, juniors study American Constitutional History, and seniors work in the wide field of Contemporary World Problems. In four years of school it is impossible to cram in much more than this. To be sure it is not taught as I was taught and for which I am grateful. I memorized facts of Ancient History for a year, knew the names of all the presidents and their tariff policies, and refought the battles of Lexington and Yorktown among many others without changing the results a bit. Today we try to teach the interrelationships of the world's natural resources with international politics (Iran Oil Question for instance), the interplay of labor and capital and natural resources etc., why democracy is on the defensive, what are the facts about other types of government, and similar relationships. The U.S. motorist's desire for more gasoline may help solve the Iranian Oil problem as quickly as our fear of communism. Actually the two together at the present moment may make some slight progress. Things today are not simple. My education failed in not teaching cause and effect in national and world affairs but kept them confined to the science lab. Today we are probably making things too complicated but at least the charge that we are not trying to teach the intertwining of facts to help solve some tough problems is utterly false. Who can say that the knowledge and ability to solve one of these complex national or international problems does not take as good brain power as it did to translate Cicero (with a "Trot", truly a word meaning nothing to our high school pupils.) We urge all of you to visit school often so that over a period of time you may see for yourselves what is being taught.

Respectfully submitted,

C. MAURICE GRAY
